

INDRANI: Thank you Team t2 for those lovely words. It's a really special honour to be here and I am very happy to say that Calcutta is home now.

es, I am in love..." he had made the big reveal to Team t2 in the winter of 2013. Today, he is very happily married to his very beautiful lady-love and they are the very proud parents of a very cute baby girl. His lady-love, dare we say, has been the best import into Calcutta in recent times. She is a columnist with t2, and a friend of Team t2.

Team t2 says... Thank You to the ever cool Karan and the ever beautiful Indrani!
